

PAY UP WEEK IS READY TO START

Much Money to Be Spent in Advertising to Induce Settling Up

Secretary W. A. Hayson of the Retail Merchants' association, announced yesterday that the retail credit men who have charge of the credit bureau of the association have practically completed plans for the 1921 pay-up week campaign. A meeting of the pay-up week committee will be held this week in the office of the secretary, at which time the committee will decide the definite dates on which the campaign is to be held, and will make a final decision between several forms of specially advertising which have been suggested and upon all of which the secretary now has the estimates of the cost.

The first item on the list is "daily ads in the Tribune and World," the estimate then goes on to explain several novelties advertising stunts. It is estimated that the total cost of the campaign will be about $1,000, which will be spent for publicity there being no charges of any kind for personal services. Indorsement of the chamber of commerce, the municipal alliance and the various civic clubs will be asked. It is also probable that Mayor Evans will issue a special proclamation as Mayor Hubbard did last year.

The twofold purpose of the campaign will be to inform the buying public of the necessity of the payment of all retail accounts not later than the 15th of the month following date of purchase, and to a great extent, to pay, or at least partial payment, of all past due accounts outstanding. A number of leading citizens have stated that they consider the movement a worthy one, and that it should have the moral support of every citizen. ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—Georgia University won the annual football game with Auburn university here today, 21 to 14, through the wonderful knock of the Red and black players in breaking up the Auburn and White offensive and converting the place into touch-downs. Alabama gained more ground from scrimmage, making 19 first downs to Georgia's six. Half-back (Spencer) of Georgia, blocked an attempted field goal and dashed 82 yards to victory for Georgia in the last few minutes of play. Georgia's other two scores came on plays that started with Alabama in possession of the ball.

considered especially effective when accompanied by a band, will be the solo rendered by Ira T. Parker, lyric tenor at the free concert of the Tulsa Municipal band to be given in convention hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The concert will be the first one given free since the decision of the band committee to make an attempt to finance the organization by donations and to allow the public free admittance to all concerts. There will be no lowering of the standard of concert however, and the program rendered will be as complete and well up as any given in the city, and which have met with the complete approval of those who attended "Old Southern Melodist" with special arrangement have been offered to please the many who delight in these old tunes. Some of the most difficult music including a "Fantasia" from the opera Carmen will also be played.
